Agency Mission

The mission of the South Carolina Commission on Prosecution Coordination (SCCPC) is to improve South Carolina's Criminal Justice System and enhance the professionalism, effectiveness, and efficiency of South Carolina's Circuit Solicitors and their staff by providing training, continuing education programs, administrative and programmatic support, and technical legal assistance for the Offices of Solicitor; by collecting, analyzing and distributing meaningful criminal justice data; and by collaborating with and assisting the General Assembly as well as federal, state and local criminal justice partners.

The SCCPC was created in 1990 to develop, coordinate, and provide training, resources, and support services for and to promote fair, just, and uniform administration of justice in the prosecution of criminal cases by the state's sixteen (16) Circuit Solicitors and their staff. The SCCPC is governed by Sections 1-7-910 through 1-7-1000 of the South Carolina Code of Laws. The Commission's eleven statutory members are the Chairmen of the Senate and House Judiciary Committees or their legislative designees, the Chief of the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division, the Director of the Department of Public Safety, a director of a Judicial Circuit Pretrial Intervention Program (PTI), a Judicial Circuit Victim-Witness Assistance Advocate, and five (5) Judicial Circuit Solicitors appointed by the Governor.

In furtherance of its mission, the SCCPC's primary responsibilities include:

- Development and coordination of efforts to improve the prosecution and disposition of criminal cases in a timely and efficient manner;
- Administrative and programmatic functional support for the Offices of the Solicitor;
- Collection of revenues and expenditures of the Offices of Solicitor as well as programmatic data for reporting as required by the South Carolina General Assembly;
- Coordination of pretrial intervention and other diversionary programs within the Solicitors' offices;
- Development of training and legal education programs for solicitors and their staff to help improve the legal knowledge and advocacy skills of prosecutors, the investigation of crimes, the administration of diversion programs, and the provision of victim services;
- Publication of newsletters, manuals and other materials to help Circuit Solicitors and staff achieve peak job performance;
- Provision of information and assistance on legal and ethics issues;
- Coordination of efforts with other federal, state and local government agencies involved in the criminal justice system; and
- Communication with non-governmental entities involved in the criminal justice system, including the South Carolina Bar, and entities representing the interests of crime victims and criminal defendants.

AGENCY’S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

I. AGENCY OVERVIEW OF FY 2020-21 AND FUTURE PLANS

Internal & External Factors Affecting Performance:

FY 2020-21 was a year of great success and progress for the SCCPC despite several internal and external factors impacting the agency. Within the SCCPC, the lack of modern technology, adequate staffing, and funding continued to inhibit the ability to move forward with many of the agency’s plans and goals. However, COVID-19 relief funding and a Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA) federal grant award aided the SCCPC with the purchase of equipment and furnishings to enhance continuing education and training offered, and with positioning the SCCPC to finally begin work in FY 22 on its long-awaited database project. Additionally, external factors such as the COVID-19 pandemic, lack of modern technology and available funding, reductions to existing funding, and shortages of prosecution staff in the Offices of Solicitor have also slowed progress on goals prioritized by both the SCCPC and circuit solicitors.

Current Efforts and Results:

The effectiveness, professionalism and efficiency of South Carolina prosecutors are of utmost importance to the SCCPC as well as the sixteen elected circuit solicitors statewide and several efforts promoting these qualities were continued and enhanced in FY 21.

The COVID-19 emergency impacted SCCPC’s trainings starting in March 2020. In response to the ongoing need to safely provide continuing education and training programs to prosecution staff across the state, the SCCPC began offering virtual trainings, holding five virtual trainings before the end of FY 20 and forty-seven virtual trainings plus a four-day virtual conference in FY 21.

The SCCPC continued its partnerships with the Circuit Directors of Diversion Programs in the sixteen circuits, other program coordinators, and the Commission’s Task Force on Diversion Programs to continue coordination of effort and processes among diversion programs across the state and improve accessibility to data on statewide diversion program participation. After finalizing updated statewide Diversion/Intervention Standards, which were adopted in FY 20, the Task Force on Diversion programs began and did significant work on developing detailed Standardized Procedures for Pre-Trial Intervention Programs. Though completed in FY 21, the task force is now making final edits before submitting to the Commission for approval in FY 22. Finally, ongoing communication and information shared between diversion program directors and coordinators across the state continues to promote the group exchange of ideas and problem solving.

The SCCPC continued its management of two longstanding grant awards and was awarded new grant funding applied for in FY 20 and FY 21. These new grants assisted the SCCPC with its technology funding needs and expenses incurred in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, acquiring equipment needed for virtual training, and beginning work on the agency’s database project.

The SCCPC remained active in FY 21 assisting the solicitors and General Assembly with the review and development of proposed legislation of interest to the legislature on a variety of criminal law matters. Additionally, the SCCPC continued to update several statutorily required reports and the formats thereof to streamline and simplify the process for both the SCCPC and solicitors’ offices, clarify the parameters of requested data for solicitor staff responsible for gathering data, and improve the accuracy of data in final statewide reports. Despite these improvements, the compilation of data collected, and preparation of final reports are hindered by the lack of a database at the SCCPC and inconsistency in the availability and calculation of data provided by solicitors' offices.

AGENCY NAME:	SC COMMISSION ON PROSECUTION COORDINATION
AGENCY CODE:	E210	SECTION:	60

Plans under Development to Introduce Additional Changes:

The initiatives planned by and between the SCCPC and the Offices of Solicitor have now been established for several years but are still not able to progress without the necessary technology funding that has been requested for just as long to support those initiatives. The SCCPC's and solicitors' technology plans require cloud-based prosecution case management systems and supporting IT infrastructure and software for all circuit solicitors, and a central database and IT staff for the SCCPC. Since FY 13, the circuit solicitors have not received any state funding support to upgrade or keep up with the increased cost of technology. The SCCPC has only received one such funding increase of $20,500 in FY 16. The temporary federal BJA grant funding sought by and awarded to the SCCPC is supporting a portion of the agency's database project costs, but state funding is still needed to complete the project and to continue the technology position hired with a portion of the grant funds.

As the population in South Carolina grows, so does criminal activity and the responsibilities of circuit solicitors. The demands on the SCCPC for training, legal research and assistance, and reporting have likewise increased. The ability for circuit solicitors to retain experienced prosecution staff and hire additional prosecution staff to meet increased demands is more important than ever; however, with no additional funding and, in fact, declining revenues, solicitors struggle to maintain existing staff because of higher paying jobs elsewhere, stress from increased workloads, or a combination of both.

The Commission and solicitors have developed and approved a funding plan that would support solicitors' ability to hire and retain staff, but until the necessary additional funding is allocated, this will be an ongoing issue. One of the solicitors' initiatives is to expedite the intake and analysis of new warrants received in their offices. In FY 21, funding was sought for two positions in each circuit to support this initiative. The General Assembly appropriated new non-recurring funds for FY 22 to be distributed to the sixteen solicitors to support this initiative, which the solicitors are very appreciative of. The funding does not allow for new permanent positions within the solicitors' offices as was the intended purpose of the funding request, but the solicitors are hopeful that the General Assembly will consider continuing funding for this initiative with recurring state funding for FY 23.

II. NOTABLE ACHIEVEMENTS AND RESULTS IN FY 2020-21

The SCCPC achieved the following during FY 2020-21 in furtherance of the agency's mission:

- Exceeded training goals for FY 21 by offering forty-eight (48) continuing education opportunities through one-day or shorter trainings as well as co-sponsoring with the South Carolina Solicitors' Association the four-day 2020 SC Solicitors' Annual Conference. These trainings provided 112.41 continuing education hours for prosecutors, 43.01 hours for victim advocates, and 60.84 hours for investigators and officers. The SCCPC conducted these trainings live using Zoom™ webinars. The trainings offered were on topics relevant to the investigation, prosecution, and trial of crimes in South Carolina's state courts, including:
  - juvenile justice;
  - evidentiary issues (obtaining, using at trial, and preservation);
  - DNA;
  - collateral consequences;
  - prosecution's disclosure obligation;

- offense-specific topics, including those related to driving under the influence, white collar, homicide, and sexual assault offenses;
  - victims’ rights, advocacy, and restitution;
  - ethics and professionalism;
  - sentencing;
  - legislation;
  - Freedom of Information Act; and
  - resiliency and self-care.
- Conducted and created materials for a one-day Elected Solicitor Orientation program for solicitors that are newly elected as well as those that have served multiple terms covering the role and services provided by the SCCPC; structure, management, and duties of a Solicitor’s Office; employment law; liability; compliance with the Ethics, Government Accountability and Campaign Reform Act of 1991; the state budget process; and other budgetary and financial management matters.
  - Co-sponsored two (2) days of training (six hours of Judicial Continuing Legal Education) conducted in February 2021 for 181 Summary Court judges. The SCCPC worked with Court Administration to select the topics, recruited prosecution speakers, collected speaker presentation materials, and recorded eight (8) speakers’ presentations for use by Court Administration in conducting the virtual seminar.
  - Continued to increase the use of and modify, for agency and end user efficiency, the agency’s online registration process.
  - Provided legal updates to the Offices of Solicitor Offices of Solicitor, Attorney General, and municipal prosecutors registered with the SCCPC immediately upon the release of opinions and orders by the Supreme Court of the United States and South Carolina’s appellate courts announcing a change to the substantive law, court procedure, or ethics rules, as well as relevant legislation by the South Carolina General Assembly and the Governor’s Executive Orders impacting the criminal justice and court systems.
  - Created a training email alert, which goes out each week except some with holidays, to inform the Offices of Solicitor, Attorney General, and some municipal prosecutors and law enforcement officers (those registered for such notices) of training opportunities offered by the Commission and other organizations and providers (local, state, and national).
  - Developed a monthly “lunch and learn” training program covering all criminal, quasi-criminal, and other decisions of interest to prosecutors and law enforcement, issued by the Supreme Court of the United States and South Carolina appellate courts during the preceding month.
  - Applied for, received and managed federal grant funds for the John R. Justice Student Loan Forgiveness Program to recognize twenty-four (24) South Carolina prosecutor and public defender applicants, who have demonstrated a commitment to public service, with an award to lessen the financial strain of existing student loan debt.
  - Awarded grant funds for a Traffic Safety Resource Prosecutor (TSRP). The grant is administered and allocated in South Carolina by the Department of Public Safety, Office of Highway Safety and Justice Programs. Pursuant to grant requirements, the SCCPC conducts trainings for prosecutors, law enforcement, and summary court judges on traffic safety enforcement, prosecution, and adjudication, with a specific focus on DUI and traffic-related offenses.

- Awarded grant funds to begin development of a centralized database for the collection of statewide prosecution data. Funds were award through the “Innovative Prosecution Solutions for Combatting Violent Crime” program by the U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA).
- Awarded grant funds through the federal Coronavirus Emergency Supplemental Funding program.
- Provided technical legal support on trial, appellate, and research issues for the Circuit Solicitors and their staff.
- Pursuant to state law, collected data from the Offices of Solicitor and prepared annual reports on:
  - Expenditures and Revenue (state, local, federal and non-governmental funding sources)
  - South Carolina Diversion Programs
  - Domestic Violence (DV) prosecutions
  - Driving Under the Influence (DUI) prosecutions
- Responded to inquiries from and provided input to the South Carolina General Assembly on legislation, budget requests and fiscal impacts.
- Worked with and assisted the Task Force on Diversion Programs on updating standardized procedures for Pre-Trial Intervention programs statewide.
- Served as a resource for and/or provided technical assistance for other local and state agencies on issues related to criminal justice.
- Four SCCPC staff members served as speakers and/or resources for local, state, and national training and meeting sessions related to criminal justice and prosecution training including Clemson University, the South Carolina Criminal Justice Academy, the South Carolina Bar, and the National Association of Prosecution Coordinators.

III. DISCUSSION OF AGENCY PLANS FOR FY 2021-22 AND BEYOND

An overview of plans the SCCPC has developed or that are under development is provided in Section I. A more detailed description of these plans, the continued efforts of the SCCPC, and the goals expected to be achieved through implementation of these planned initiatives and ongoing efforts follows:

1. Develop, coordinate and conduct regular training and continuing education for Circuit Solicitors, prosecutors and staff. Chief among the services the SCCPC provides for the Offices of Solicitor is regular training for all prosecution staff, and the agency will continue to coordinate and conduct trainings in FY 22 tailored to the needs of prosecutors, paralegals, investigators, victim advocates, diversion program staff and administrative staff and will provide resource materials for every training that is conducted for future reference and use. The SCCPC also serves as a legal resource on prosecution, ethics, evidence, trial, appellate and research issues for solicitors and their staff; provides updates on legislation, case law, and government orders; responds to legal questions; assists with research; and reviews pleadings. Agency staff will continue to provide timely updates to the Offices of Solicitor on legislative changes, rule changes, and impactful appellate opinions, and will provide trial assistance as requested.

An unfortunate consequence of the COVID-19 pandemic was that to mitigate the spread of COVID-19, in-person group trainings could not be offered in FY 21. The SCCPC, however, increased use of the online platform Zoom™ Pro training programs and meetings of the Circuit Solicitors and their staff, other prosecution offices, and law enforcement agencies. In FY 22, the SCCPC will continue to develop and provide virtual training to enhance the agency’s education and training program while also reintroducing in-person trainings.

AGENCY NAME:	SC COMMISSION ON PROSECUTION COORDINATION

The Annual Solicitors’ Conference, the SCCPC’s largest training event each year, was held virtually via Zoom™ Webinar for the first time in 2020. An average of 332 prosecutors and law enforcement officers attended all four days of the conference, and the amount of positive feedback provided through written evaluations, e-mails and phone calls was overwhelming. The conference sessions provided 16.0 continuing education hours for prosecutors and 16.0 hours for investigators. The SCCPC develops and organizes every aspect of the conference that brings together Solicitors and their staff, other state and local prosecutors, diversion program staff, prosecution investigators, paralegals, administrative staff, speakers, and guests from across the State for training and required legal education.

The SCCPC will continue to obtain accreditation for its FY 22 trainings from the SC Supreme Court’s Commission on CLE and Specialization, South Carolina Bar, South Carolina Criminal Justice Academy, and/or Department of Crime Victim Services Training, Provider Certification & Statistical Analysis. Evaluations will continue to be utilized to determine the effectiveness of each training.

Providing training and legal education programs and services for the Offices of Solicitor is a primary function of the SCCPC. New recurring funding will be requested for the FY 23 state budget to establish to establish an agency training budget for expenses associated with trainings and educational programs provided by the SCCPC for prosecutors, law enforcement, judges, victim/witness advocates and/or diversion coordinators. The costs associated with the coordination of training programs include equipment for presentations, location rental fees, speaker engagement fees, travel expenses, instructional materials, and audio-visual arrangements.

2. Hire additional agency staff and provide staff with necessary resources to perform job duties.

The SCCPC has developed a strategic organizational plan that identifies appropriate staffing necessary to enable the agency to accomplish ongoing efforts, new plans under development and, ultimately, the responsibilities and mission of the agency. Additional recurring funding to support the salaries of existing staff was requested during FY 21 and has been the agency’s top budget request priority for multiple budget cycles. The SCCPC is grateful that the necessary funding was appropriated to the SCCPC in the FY 22 budget to fully fund agency staff.

In FY 21, the SCCPC applied for and was awarded federal funding under the U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA) “Innovative Prosecution Solutions for Combatting Violent Crime” program that has supported the hiring of a database administrator to oversee the development of the SCCPC’s database project and serve as administrator of the database into the future. Recurring state funding is being requested to continue supporting the SCCPC’s database administrator after the federal grant ends. The SCCPC is also seeking non-recurring state funding to continue development of the database once the awarded Federal grant ends. The SCCPC’s database administrator is the first IT professional the agency has ever had on staff and is hopeful that the State will provide the funding to continue the position.

The vital importance of technology has increased and the need to utilize technology-based resources has grown and will continue to do so. As a result, the SCCPC is once again seeking state funds to hire a Technology Operations and Publications Design Manager (IT Manager II) which will manage and provide support for the agency's technology equipment; create and manage a conference website for the annual solicitors' conference; manage the SCCPC's website; design SCCPC newsletters; and develop, edit, and produce information materials and publications for use by law enforcement and prosecutors across the State.

AGENCY NAME:	SC COMMISSION ON PROSECUTION COORDINATION

Finally, funding is needed for a new staff attorney (Attorney III) to meet increased demands for trainings, legal updates, legal research, legal assistance, and support provided for the Offices of Solicitor. SCCPC staff operates efficiently to provide legal support, human resources assistance, administrative support, programmatic support, and prosecution training for the Offices of Solicitor. However, the workloads, responsibilities and staffing of the Offices of Solicitor continue to increase, and criminal laws and procedures have become more complex and are constantly changing. As the demands of the Offices of Solicitor have increased, likewise, the demands for SCCPC services have also increased.

3. Develop and implement an agency database. The SCCPC is excited that the same federal grant awarded to the SCCPC in FY 21 under the “Innovative Prosecution Solutions for Combatting Violent Crime” program to hire a database administrator is also providing partial funding to begin development of its long-awaited database project, planned since FY 19. The database (Prosecution Data Collection System) will be housed at the SCCPC and will serve as a central repository database for the collection and statewide reporting of data from the Offices of Circuit Solicitor. It will also support integration with the offices that have newer cloud-based prosecution case management systems. Upon implementation, the database will streamline and maximize the accurate and efficient collection of existing statewide data to meet reporting requirements, analyze case data and trends, and measure the programmatic and operational effectiveness of the Offices of Solicitor. Non-recurring state funds are requested for the remaining development costs not covered by grant funding.

4. Implement Phase I of the newly developed diversion programs database. In FY 19, the SCCPC worked with the Circuit Solicitors and their Directors of Diversion Programs to finalize the needs and goals for a new diversion programs database being developed under contract with SLED that will be used to verify offender eligibility, monitor participant progress and assess program effectiveness. Upon completion of Phase I of this project, the database will incorporate and track diversion participant and programmatic information and analysis for Pretrial Intervention, Alcohol Education Program, Traffic Education Program, and Drug Court programs. The new database will replace the current diversion directory, which is maintained by SLED, is limited to pretrial intervention program participants only, is antiquated, and has frequent accessibility issues. IT staffing changes at SLED and the COVID-19 pandemic have continued to delay SLED's completion of the database; however, user testing of the database is being coordinated for Fall 2021. Following implementation of Phase I, the SCCPC and SLED will begin work on Phase II of the project to add all remaining diversion programs.

5. Assist with the development and implementation of statewide diversion program initiatives. The SCCPC continues to partner with the sixteen statewide Circuit Directors of Diversion Programs to identify and bring to the circuit solicitors’ attention various areas of concern and issues affecting the performance of statewide diversion programs. In the past few years, the SCCPC has worked with the Circuit Directors of Diversion Programs and coordinated working groups from the Offices of Solicitor to identify resource shortages for the operation of solicitor-operated diversion programs. In FY 21, the SCCPC-appointed Task Force on Diversion Programs met eight times to develop draft standardized procedures for statewide pre-trial intervention programs. These standardized procedures are expected to be finalized by the commission in the first half of FY 22. Once approved by the Commission, the task force will continue its work by developing recommended standardized procedures for other diversion programs.

AGENCY NAME:	SC COMMISSION ON PROSECUTION COORDINATION

Finally, the SCCPC introduced Diversion Discourse calls in FY 21, which are led by the SCCPC and offered to all diversion personnel across the state, with the objective of sharing ideas, solutions, and enhancing the communication between diversion programs across the State. Three Diversion Discourse calls were held in FY 21 and will continue to be coordinated in FY 22.

IV. CIRCUIT SOLICITOR PLANS FOR THE CURRENT FISCAL YEAR AND BEYOND

The ongoing efforts and new initiatives of the sixteen (16) elected circuit solicitors support the fair and swift prosecution of criminal cases, rehabilitation of offenders through diversion and treatment court programs, support for crime victims and witnesses, and public safety. The SCCPC’s role is to coordinate and provide training programs, legal and legislative research and assistance, statewide prosecution data, legal and legislative updates and responses, and project assistance to support the solicitors’ efforts. While the outcomes for the efforts and initiatives of the solicitors’ offices are not directly under the control of or influenced by the SCCPC, the ability of the solicitors’ to carry out their efforts and initiatives is of utmost importance to the SCCPC and directly affects the ability of the SCCPC to effectively carry out the Commission’s ongoing efforts and planned initiatives. Therefore, a brief description of these solicitor goals and plans follows:

1. Upgrade technology in the Offices of Solicitor. Solicitor IT funding is needed for the acquisition, operation, maintenance and support of necessary technology upgrades to: (1) facilitate electronic interface with other offices (including prosecutors, law enforcement, courts, defense attorneys); (2) integrate targeted data with central specialized databases (such as the SCCPC database being developed by the SCCPC); (3) support uniform statewide reporting; (4) expedite the disposition of charges; and (5) reduce the backlog of pending warrants exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic.

6. Address COVID-19 related revenue losses for treatment courts and diversion programs. The funding shortages of diversion programs have been magnified by the loss of revenue and shutdown of many court operations resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic. Statewide, funding losses from court fines and fees that support drug treatment courts and diversion programs from the beginning of the pandemic in FY 20 through FY 21 totaled over -$3 Million. These losses do not include additional reductions in program participation fees. As a result of these revenue losses, staffing has had to be reduced in many circuits. The circuit solicitors are requesting COVID-gap funding to offset devastating losses in revenue that support solicitor diversion programs. Ultimately, however, this is a short-term fix and additional recurring state funding support will be needed to stabilize revenue in the long-term for the operation of these programs in the future.

2. Implementation of circuit intake and analysis plans. With new non-recurring funding received for FY 22, each circuit solicitor is developing and/or formalizing an intake and analysis process for the early assessment of cases after arrest to ensure defendants are properly charged and that all cases are analyzed for dismissal, placement in a diversion program or treatment court, or assigned to a prosecutor or special unit. The goal of each circuit’s review process is to reduce the docket, clear the backlog, minimize court time used on unnecessary matters, and reduce the unnecessary detention of defendants which, in turn, will allow for quicker resolution of cases on the front end. The additional early assessment of cases requires legal analysis by a prosecutor along with administrative support; therefore, recurring funding for an additional prosecutor and administrative assistant in each circuit was requested during FY 21 to prevent further docket backlog. The non-recurring funding received for FY 22 does not support the recurring costs of additional staff; therefore, continued funding for this initiative is needed for future years.

AGENCY NAME:	SC COMMISSION ON PROSECUTION COORDINATION
AGENCY CODE:	E210	SECTION:	60

V. RESTRUCTURING RECOMMENDATIONS

The SCCPC does not have any restructuring recommendations for the elimination or combination of existing agency programs.

VI. RISK ASSESSMENT AND MITIGATION STRATEGIES

If the SCCPC does not meet its goals and objectives, the criminal justice system and the safety of South Carolina’s local communities will be adversely impacted. The SCCPC coordinates communication and collaboration among the Offices of Solicitor and criminal justice partners; gathers and reports data and information for the benefit of the General Assembly, Circuit Solicitors, other criminal justice agencies and the public; develops and provides training for prosecutors, law enforcement, judges, diversion coordinators, victim advocates and others; and provides legal assistance to the Offices of Solicitor.

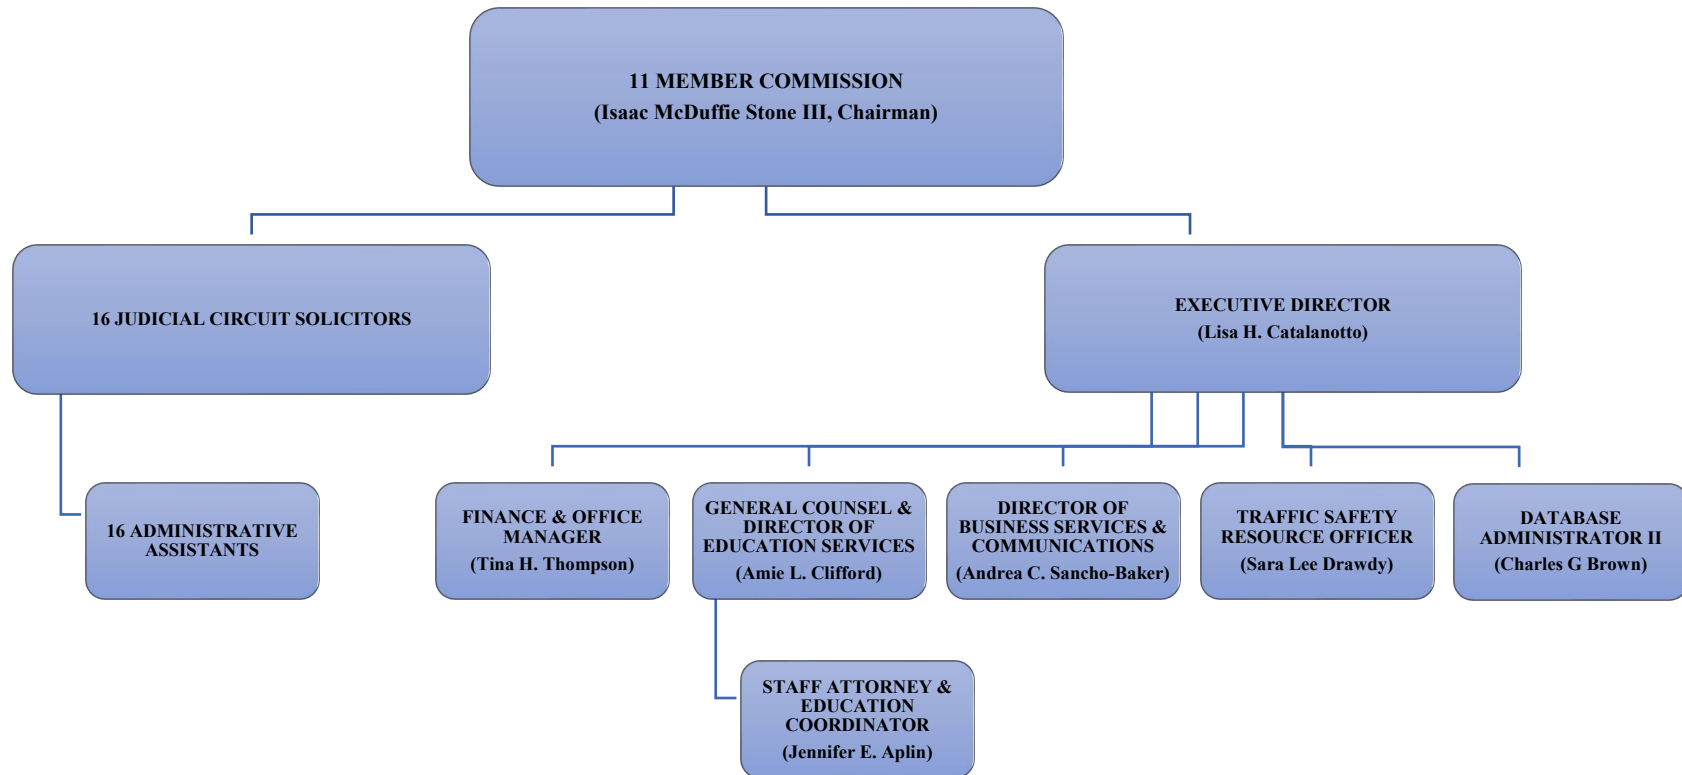

Circuit solicitors face several challenges requiring enhanced prosecutor training and continuing legal education, and additional support and assistance from the SCCPC. For example, the population in South Carolina increased 10.66% between the 2010 census and the 2020 census. The number of statewide criminal charges exceeded that growth, with annual arrest increasing an average of 13.23% over that same period and prosecutor caseloads have likewise increased as a result. The Offices of Solicitor must have adequate numbers of prosecutors and staff to handle the increased volume of criminal cases and the ability to retain experience and talent. As the number and experience of prosecutors within the solicitors’ offices change, the demands on the SCCPC continue to increase.

As another example, while the use of advanced technology by criminals over the past ten (10) years has dramatically increased, the technology available to the circuit solicitors and to the SCCPC has remained stagnant. Cell phone and social media use is prevalent in our society and criminals take advantage of it to plan, execute, photograph and publish their crimes, and to threaten, bully and exploit people. Technology can and must be used to stop crime as well. Accordingly, Solicitors need to have modern technology to deal with these issues. The SCCPC, too, needs additional technology, including a database for the central collection of statewide prosecution data.
